

Credit monitoring

Early supply chain warnings before a supplier failure costs you.

The problem.

Insecure supply chains create severe risks to any organisation, causing headaches on an operational and strategic scale. Supply disruption leads to production delays, stressed supply chains, and liabilities.

Supplier credit scores can be an early indicator of instability, yet most companies only check them during onboarding and renewal, not addressing new risks.

The solution.

Our software monitors credit scores for UK suppliers, helping you identify consistently low scores - an early warning for administration, dissolution and write-offs. You can also view score history and see how a score has dropped over time, identify suppliers with an already low score, and monitor specific supplier scores with ease. With this information, your team can act and prepare for potential supply chain problems or financial loss.

Know the score – We match suppliers against your master supplier file, track changes to your supplier credit scores via CreditSafe, and alert you to low scores.

Understand the risk – Your team see up-to-date risk scores, risk bandings and reasons for no score, to understand the potential risks. See the transaction and credit context to inform your decisions.

Act in a click – Focus on the most significant risks to your critical supply chain, reviewing credit score trends, adding risky suppliers to your workflows, or exporting for escalation.
